SANTA BARBARA SCHOOL DISTRICT

1.7 Selection of Santa Barbara School Districts for Intensive Examination in Connection with Comprehensive Study by Stanford Research Institute:
At its meeting on June 21, 1962, the Board authorized participation by the Santa Barbara School District and Santa Barbara High School District in a comprehensive study by Stanford Research Institute on various factors affecting requirements and support of public school education in California in the next decade. School districts throughout the State are participating in this study through a joint powers agreement with SRI, and with the Los Angeles school districts serving as administrative agent.

We have been notified that our two Santa Barbara school districts have been selected, along with 23 other school districts in California, for intensive examination in accordance with objectives of the study. Said districts were selected as being most representative of the various types of school districts in the State, with some consideration being given to geographic location. Such districts will not be identified in the report, but reported only with reference to the general type of district.

The results of this most important study will be of great benefit to all California school districts, and we are pleased the Santa Barbara City Schools has been selected for analysis data.
