WHEREAS, the Associated Student Council has made provision by resolution, by election, and by significant modifications of its constitutional and structural form to meet by other means the funding of existing co-curricular programs, and

WHEREAS, the Education Code (section 25531.8) provides that

"the governing board of any district maintaining a community college may establish a bookstore on district property for the purpose of offering for sale, textbooks, supplementary textbooks, school supplies, stationery supplies, confectionery items, and related auxiliary school supplies and services.

The governing board may establish a bookstore fund into which proceeds derived from the operation of a junior college bookstore may be transferred. Moneys in a bookstore fund shall be deposited or invested in one or more of the following ways:

(a) Deposits in a bank or banks whose accounts are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

The governing board shall designate an employee or official of the district to act as trustee for funds derived from the operation of a community college bookstore and to receive such funds in accordance with procedures established by the Board. The funds may be expended only in accordance with such procedure as may be established by the board. All necessary expenses, including salaries, wages and costs of capital improvements, may be deducted from the sales of a community college bookstore. Net proceeds from the operation of a community college bookstore shall be used for the general benefit of the student body as determined by the governing board.
