RE: ADDITIONAL NAME TO BE ADDED TO THE CCCT BOARD OF DIRECTORS ELECTION BALLOT

Will you please help us correct an inequity created by the U.S. Postal Service? We have determined that a bona fide nomination was properly processed and mailed well in advance of the deadline and was subsequently lost in the U.S. Mail.

We ask and authorize you to add the name of Dr. Gary B. Adams, Trustee, Pasadena Community College District, to the CCCT Board of Directors Ballot. We also ask that you distribute Dr. Adam's vitae (enclosed) to the members of your Governing Board.

Thank you for your help in this matter!

TO: Community College District Superintendents/Chancellors

FROM: Ronald Myron, Executive Director

RE: 1981 ELECTION -- CCCT BOARD OF DIRECTORS

We appreciate your help in conducting the 81-82 election for twelve (12) vacancies on the CCCT Board of Directors. Please note there will not be an election for the Student Director vacancy for 81-82. CCCT did not receive a Student Trustee nomination.

If you have any questions regarding the election process, please call the CCCT Office.

Your board may cast a maximum of twelve (12) votes for the Regular Director vacancies. Only one vote may be cast for an individual candidate - cumulative voting is not permitted.

We ask that you return your district's official ballots in the ballot envelope provided. The ballot envelope should be sealed, verified, and placed in the larger envelope for mailing to CCCT.

The deadlines are noted on the attached "Official Ballot Data" information sheet.

Thank you.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

It is my firm belief that local control should remain unfettered. Also, any local base for taxation now existing should be preserved and funding for community colleges should not come from specific set-asides at the State level, but from the general funds. Further the Constitutional commitment to the people of the State of California should remain in the form of open-door access to community colleges.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

Having served ten years on a local Board of Trustees of an urban community college district, as well as participating in state-wide community college activities, it my judgment that I can serve effectively in preserving the mission of community colleges and the structure of community college governance. In addition, I have time available to devote to the fulfillment of these objectives.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

We must continue the fight to keep California community colleges tuition free. There is a sense of urgency involved since the reduction of student financial aid in the federal budget will work hardships upon many of our students whose family incomes are poverty level and below. So, the fundamental charge of the community college trustees is to obtain adequate funding from the state. This funding should cover the needs of the adult education, non credit curriculum, as well as all credit programs. Legislative activity, at an accelerated pace, must be the order of the day. Strengthening the coalition of all community college districts toward this end is essential to the future of the movement.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

I will continue to stress the importance of cooperation among the districts who are involved in delivering adult education/non credit classes to their respective communities as far as legislative activity is concerned. In my association with such groups as CCUDA and my affiliations with Hispanic-American organizations in the state I will exert pressure to support these needs. Satisfactory funding of credit and non credit education by the state must be pursued with vigor. I will make myself available to CCCT when and as I am called upon to represent the needs of community colleges in Sacramento in concert with our fellow colleges in order to support our objectives.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (30 words or less)

Our toughest battles for state financing to support community colleges may still be ahead. CCCT must continue an assertive, year-round effort to demonstrate the significant values of the community college system to members of the State Legislature and key leaders throughout California. In addition, CCCT needs to maintain an important information link with local boards of education and trustees regarding all issues affecting community colleges.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (30 words or less)

I have a genuine concern for and conviction of the state's community colleges and their unique role in local communities as part of the entire higher education system. My willingness to devote the necessary time to the Board of Directors, together with my business background and experience, lead me to believe that I am a qualified candidate for the Board.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

Productivity is the issue which will define our ability to deliver quality education; develop programs required by rapidly advancing technology; and maintain an open-access, tuition-free system within the available financial resources.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

Having spent a lifetime in industry and having a long-time involvement with education, I believe I am well suited to work with the educational challenges of the '80s. My broad friendship with legislators on State and national levels is especially valuable in these times.

Some high priority issues are: Program Review, Finance, Board/Chief Executive Relationships, Non-Credit (Community Education) and Vocational Programs, Staff Development, New Technologies. CCCT should:

1. Orient new trustees.
2. Highlight important community college issues in time.
3. Provide a variety of channels and opportunities for sharing information.
4. Hold workshops and conferences.
5. Develop reference materials library.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

My contribution is a statewide perspective, expertise in orientation, knowledge of education legislation finance, the political process and an abiding commitment to public education. I believe my statewide appointments, academic background and employment experience are (and have been) very helpful.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

A stronger, more visible presence in Sacramento is essential if we are to effectively compete for the state's educational dollar.

We must show the vital role community colleges play in this state by correcting misconceptions regarding our schools.

Develop a high profile of board members in Sacramento who will work toward returning control of our community colleges to their Boards.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

As an attorney in private practice, I can devote a great deal of time to the above goals. As our Board's legislative representative, I have worked in Sacramento with our legislators and the Chancellor's Office, and have developed a good rapport. I can project a new and vital effort on our behalf as a member of the Board of Directors.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

Legislation - Finance - Local Control

CCCT needs to be developed so that it speaks with a single voice. Individual boards need to get behind the organization and let it be known where our interests are and what we are trying to accomplish. The community college trustees represent more people than do the teachers and union organizations and yet we have not spoken with as much clarity or gained as much in the legislative process.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

I feel that I can contribute in the legislative lobbying and in working with the other community colleges trying to get them more involved with CCCT.

CCCT must offer LEADERSHIP, rather than reaction, for the Legislature, Board of Governors, and California Postsecondary Education Commission. We must heed and act on the concerns of our Trustee members. We must continue to provide our members with the informational and legislative assistance they need to govern.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

CCCT has now become of age as a COMMUNITY COLLEGE Association of Trustees with a highly qualified staff and expert consultants. CCCT can now speak for its members with a STRONG voice. To accomplish our goals, I will work to increase the involvement of our individual members in association affairs.

Major issues and activities for CCCT for next two years:

CCCT has been very helpful to the trustees but certain areas need to be given high priority:
1. More indepth subject matter academies for trustees in the use of data processing; Management by Objectives for policy setting; the development of an organizational budget; a model personnel evaluation for all personnel (including superintendents), etc.

Role of trustee: Active or Passive?

2. Comparison data on contracts with superintendents and presidents

3. Community College financing

4. The threat of Statewide control of the community colleges

5. Develop a constantly current trustee directory

6. New trustees regional meetings

7. Manuals for board members on Management Information Systems, Superintendent/Board evaluations, superintendent selection, personnel management system for community colleges.

8. Articulation councils of CSUC, UC, and other institutions of higher learning (trustees)

9. Resource bibliography for pertinent information for trustees:

   CCT could be instrumental in developing data sources for trustees including such information as library sources, governmental and academic reports, legal sources of information accreditation requirements, PERB rulings and other general resource documents of valuable importance to trustees

10. Information on international education

11. Mounting a statewide pressure on the legislature to recognize the role of community college trustees as valuable political leaders

12. Trustee compensation.

My Contribution:

I have devoted ten years to the community college movement and feel that my professional background both in education, personnel, administration and labor relations could be of benefit to CCCT. I would work to make CCCT more visible on substantial issues some of which I have mentioned here. We have an opportunity at this time to bring national attention to the role of community college in light of the retooling of America. As active political leaders, Trustees need to develop better public relations and communication within the State.

It would be my pleasure to be a "working member of the team" of CCT to aid in accomplishing such a goal.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

Since the concept of responsible trusteeship demands increasing examination and dialogue, I believe CCCT must continue to provide the direction as well as the forum. However, the most pressing problem facing trustees is the never-ending State and Federal regulatory legislation and involvement in Community College affairs. The entire community college community must work together to ensure that local control is not further eroded.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

I believe that CCCT is the ideal catalyst for mobilizing trustee involvement and promoting trustee views. I believe that my experience with Community College associations and as Second Vice-President will help meet these goals.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

1. We should develop a cohesive community college political force made up of all elements in the community college family—trustees, faculty, administrators, classified, and students.

2. We should work to revise State funding practices.

3. We should redirect State policies to enlarge District autonomy.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

I would present a different point of view than that of a traditional trustee, doing so in a responsible manner and working diligently with other members of the Board of Directors.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

(1) Protection of and preservation of the limited control remaining in the direct control of local boards and their constituency.

(2) Preservation of reasonable funding availability without increasing control from above.

(3) Regional coordination of various programs to insure maximum offerings to the broad public without costly duplication of courses at adjacent institutions.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

Principal sole owner of a private professional business and thirty years of experience as chairperson and board member of various boards and commissions including twelve years as a trustee in an expanding community college district. Practical understanding of politics and machinations of the legislative process.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

No insignificant addition to the administrative expenses of districts lies within the associated expenses of mandated reporting. My view is that the State Department of Finance would be well advised to fund the State Chancellor's Office to interrogate computer data bases remotely via telephone and do their own reporting, thus relieving us (those districts that wish to participate in such a plan) from the obligation. Such an effort must occur through the auspicious of CCCT to be effective.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

John Vasconcellos is from my area and has already been contacted to initiate such a plan which might realize several millions of dollar savings statewide. We require, however, a representative organization to articulate such an effort with appropriate entities. In the case of community colleges, I feel that CCCT is the appropriate group. I would suggest a volunteer pilot program initially as a CCCT ad hoc activity. I would be pleased to direct this as a CCCT Director, but it most desirably must originate from CCCT.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

1. Continue to effectively represent the interest of member boards in Sacramento.

2. Develop an effective public information program to inform Californians of the value of community college education.

3. Develop new information and educational programs to inform trustees of member boards of their responsibilities and duties.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

As past president of CCCT, I am in a position to assist the current officers to achieve the goals of CCCT as determined by the Board of Directors. I also would like to use the knowledge gained over the years to increase the resources of CCCT so that new educational programs for trustees can be implemented. It is particularly imperative that we continue the strong effective legislative program that CCCT has developed.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

(1) Adequate funding to maintain open access.
(2) Response to the changing profile of community college students (i.e. demographic increase in the female student population).
(3) Articulating mission of community college with emphasis on vocational education and transfer program.
(4) Encouraging and increasing communication among local boards to effect CCCT positions on legislation.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

I am a graduate of a community college with personal experience in the knowledge of values derived from an open access to students. As a reentering woman with specific educational needs, I valued the transfer program and vocational education classes. I feel this unique experience has an added emphasis when called on to define the community college mission.

As a board member at Cuesta College in rural San Luis Obispo County, I value the CCCT association's premise of the effectiveness of local boards determining policy positions through an active and open communication process. If chosen to serve on the CCCT Board of Directors, I hope to articulate those positions in an effective manner.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

Funding and collective bargaining are the two most important areas that the CCCT Association should assist Community College Board Members with in the near future.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

I think I can contribute a great deal of understanding about the Community College concept. I have some insight into the instructional perspective as well as the managerial view. These insights should be helpful in providing direction in the areas of funding and collective bargaining.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

Equity of funding based upon community needs assessment should be considered by CCCT in the next two years. Also, resolution of the Adult Education question so as to reduce duplication and competition for tax dollars and to provide through the community college a truly comprehensive post-secondary education program. Further development of energy and cost saving methodologies is urgently needed.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

My contribution to CCCT over the past four years is evidence of my ability to serve. My strengths include collective bargaining, legislative advocacy, and cost-effective management systems. My experience in real estate, construction printing and data processing give me additional insight into concerns of board members.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

The major issues facing community colleges are (1) to obtain adequate funding from the state for the colleges, while maintaining open access to the citizens of California; (2) to provide state leadership while maintaining local control.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

I have been a member of the CCCT Legislative Committee for the past two years and am familiar with the legislative issues facing the community colleges. I have developed contacts with legislators which will be beneficial when the issues need to be discussed. I have chaired our local Board of Trustees, so I realize the importance of decision making at the local level.

1. Continued need to protect local control. The community colleges--more than any other institutions of higher learning--respond flexibly and creatively to local needs.

2. Finances. Community colleges must continue to actively seek funds from government and must also continue to explore alternate sources of funding.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

1. Enthusiasm and energy, plus the ability to look at old problems with a young, fresh approach.

2. An appreciation of the value of community colleges. I received my first two years of college education at a community college.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

We need to finish writing our own policy, and establish lines of authority. Particular attention should be paid to the way we are represented on the CCCT Board, and by CCCT. We need to find a way to tell our CCCT Board what we want, and have the ability to approve their actions. In short, we need to revise the way members are elected, and limit the term of service on the CCCT Board.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

I am on the CCCT Board Policy Book Task Force, and represented our District on the CCCT Legislative Network. I also serve on the Chancellor's Advisory Committee as well as the CCJCA Commission on Continuing Education. I have served on a legislative committee of the PTA., the CSBA, and the CCJCA. I was the only Board Member in the State on the Chancellor's Advisory Committee on Planning, which drafted the first five year plan for the Board of Governors. Finally, I am one of the co-founders of the quarterly regional meeting held by the Trustees of the Community College Districts in Orange County, and have served 4 times as President of my own Board. This broad experience would be quite useful on the CCCT Board of Directors.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

CCCT must re-emphasize the traditional mission of California's community colleges in the areas of transfer programs, occupational preparation, general education, terminal education, and community services. CCCT must resist all efforts to impose tuition because tuition, however small, would deter many students of entering college. CCCT must push for legislation to allow limited local taxation for specific purposes.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

My twelve years experience as a trustee will be a strong factor in my working toward the above goals. Not only must we emphasize the more traditional mission of our colleges noted above, but we must strike in new and noble directions in determining the needs of our communities and meeting those needs. I feel that each district must initiate new programs and courses that will hopefully meet the needs and desires of local residents.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

Of course, finance will continue to be a major issue for California community colleges even though a two year finance bill is passed. I feel CCCT must work for a more stable base of financial support for districts than the whims of the California legislature. Also, the mission and function of California community colleges is now and will continue to be under pressure for change as the tight money situation is faced by all levels of government. CCCT must be ever watchful, not that all change is necessarily bad, but to protect the interests and needs of our students and local communities.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

The experience I have gained over the last four years as a member of the CCCT Board of Directors has broadened my knowledge and understanding of the complexities involved with the determination of statewide policies affecting California community colleges. My experience with the Board of Governors, CPEC, the Chancellor's Office and members of the legislature has contributed to my effectiveness at the state level.

The main issue is the perception of the Community College by the community. Our greatest challenge is to act as public relations agents of our colleges. A major task of CCCT is to help all Trustees to be effective in that role.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

I am an idea person. I have many ideas which, if supported by CCCT, could help make the people of California more aware of us and more supportive of our role in the education community.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

Adequate financing with the possibility of tuition and further erosion of local control are two issues CCCT will continue to consider. The organization has done a good job in getting the trustees' viewpoint to the legislators, but efforts must be expanded, possibly using the Legislative Network, to increase our impact. Efforts to enhance articulation with the University and State College System on the state and local levels are a necessity to give our students the benefit of effective transfer coordination.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

With further erosion of local control by the State, I would like the opportunity to work on the state level with our Board and contribute to its effectiveness. I believe that my educational background, work, and community experiences plus over eleven years as an active Cerritos College trustee will all provide me with the necessary tools. I would like to thank the State Center District for nominating me and thank you for your support.

What do you see as the major issues and activities relating to community college students that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

CCCT should assist the community college in seeking solutions to the problems of finance and in detecting changing trends and preparing for them.

Community Colleges should be:

1. making innovative plans for raising revenue and cutting costs;
2. adapting to changes in non-traditional instruction and facilities off campus;
3. concentrating on career assistance and continuing education programs in readiness for a new composition of students and contemporary needs.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

My greatest contribution would be a willingness to devote a sufficient amount of time in assisting CCCT in any appropriate way and to become enthusiastically involved in the search for solutions to community college problems. I view as an asset my unbiased outlook and lack of pre-conceived notions.

My most intense experience has been as that of a new trustee thus I feel I could contribute significantly in the development of a new trustee orientation.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

California Community Colleges are entering a period of fiscal constraint which will have a far-reaching impact on the colleges' role in the community. A prime concern is the maintenance of an open-door admissions policy which will insure that all students have access to education. At the same time, we must maintain our high academic standards and diversity of program offerings. The major thrust of CCCT must be to develop a stronger leadership position in the presentation of the community college story at the state level.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

I have had eleven years of experience and participation in leadership positions in local, state and federal government. My knowledge of "how to get the job done" in a political environment could assist the Board of Directors of CCCT to realize its potential as a major advocate of community colleges. Also, I have many contacts with the professionals and legislators who make major decisions.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

How will community colleges be financed and at what rate of increase year by year must remain as a paramount issue. Others include free flow, appointments to the Public Relations Board, student board members becoming full voting members, guaranteed student loans, adult education, and state priority for funding schools.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

As a member of the Board of Directors, I would work to dispel the myths and misconceptions regarding the proper role of trustees and work to provide guidance for today's board members in the fulfilling of their obligations to their institutions and to the public. Board members must be actively involved in all legislation concerning itself with community colleges.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

Major issue will be finance. We need a stable and long term basis for financing our institutions. Attendant to the finance issue will be the matter of "tuition" or "fees."

I suspect we will have additional fees or tuition adopted by the legislature either this session or the next.

The credit - non-credit issue will continue as well as the administration of vocational and adult education programs.

We should adopt and support realistic goals and objectives and maintain our position in the scheme of higher education.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

I have served on committees, advisory groups, survey teams and as a consultant on all aspects of community college education as a professional. I have been an administrator at the local and state level for the State Colleges and Community Colleges. I have also taught at the University of California and served on the Articulation, Liaison and Engineering Liaison Committees.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

CCCT Should:

1) Help identify and define the future role of the community colleges in California as will best serve the needs of the diverse student population.

2) Assist local boards in developing their skills in determining the policies of their district with full knowledge of the trends and data that affect all policy decisions on a local level as well as at the state and national levels.

3) Help identify future funding sources and push for a permanent funding formula for California's community colleges that leaves the major decision at the local level.

4) Develop a closer working relationship with the business and industrial community of California and its State commissions.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

As the wife of a former State Legislator I would bring a good working knowledge of the State Legislature and its internal workings to the CCCT Board. I would bring a dedication to help a local board make informed and cogent decisions on policy direction through continued workshops and seminars on board policy development in specialized areas of education. I would likewise bring regional balance and small school representation to the CCCT Board.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

Promoting development of a favorable long-term finance bill for community colleges; increasing CCCT contacts with Trustees who do not "habitually" attend annual legislative conferences.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

As a director of CCCT, I will be able to frequently visit Sacramento and personally advocate the views of our organization with legislators and their staff. Regional meetings focusing on both state and local issues should be sponsored by CCCT.

A limit should be established on the number of consecutive terms a director of the CCCT may serve.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

With continuing fiscal constraints and loss of public confidence, it is essential that community college trustees be as effective as possible in their leadership, policy making and public relations role. The CCCT serves to promote the skill, knowledge, and concern of its members so each can serve at his/her maximum capacity.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

Because I have been a trustee at the high school and community college level for 16 years, I feel I have experience and commitment to contribute to an organization like CCCT. I believe in the community college concept and am anxious to serve to enhance the effectiveness of our institutions.

What do you see as the major issues and activities that should be considered by CCCT in the next two years? (50 words or less)

Change of both curriculum and the needs of community college students and the crisis of financing the ever increasing cost of education and the two major issues. Methods need to be explored of offering courses in non-traditional modes. The tuition question and financing in general need to be confronted and resolved.

What do you feel you can contribute in these areas? (50 words or less)

I will utilize my understanding of government financing and interact with officials making allocation decisions. I will work through CCCT to promote non-traditional delivery modes for improving the quality and quantity of course offerings statewide. My local government and educational experiences will provide valuable linkages.
