Thirteen grant applications were received by the Faculty Enrichment Committee. Eleven of the proposals are based on applications of media technology to instruction or faculty development, which is the emphasis for this year’s FEC Grant Program. The FEC’s recommendations summarized on this page and detailed in the following pages were presented to the Academic Senate on December 9, 1992. The Academic Senate’s recommendations are reflected immediately below and elsewhere in this document.

Faculty Enrichment Grant Abstract: Spring 1993

Name: Jane Metiu
Department: Nursing ADN
Title of Proposed Project: Computerized Testing for the ADN Student
Abstract: Beginning April 1994, the California State Board Examination for Licensure for Registered Nurses will be administered by computer. The purpose of this proposal is to administer the final exams for a nursing short course by computer. This would prepare the ADN students for the licensure exam as well as be a learning tool for the student who would get immediate feedback upon completion of the exam. An additional benefit would be a more efficient way for faculty to administer and grade exams. This pilot project involves purchase of Microtest, a software program for development of computerized tests. Three final exams consisting of fifty multiple choice questions will be revised and put on computer disks. All students taking the final exam for the short course Care of the Patient with Endocrine Dysfunction will take the final exam on the on the computers in the Nursing Learning Laboratory during the regular weekly exam period. An evaluation questionnaire will be completed by each student. ADN Faculty will use the results of the project to decide on computerized testing for other courses.

Requested Funding:
- Stipend: $1,245.00
- Materials and Supplies: $100.00
- Printing/Duplicating: $0.00
- TOTAL: $1,345.00

FACULTY ENRICHMENT COMMITTEE FINDING:
A significant portion of the proposed activities appear to be part of routine teaching responsibilities (writing exams, reviewing with students, etc.), so the project time was reduced to 1.5 hours per week.

RECOMMENDED FUNDING:
- Stipend: $700.38
- Materials and Supplies: $100.00
- Printing/Duplicating: $0.00
- TOTAL: $800.38

ACADEMIC SENATE ACTION (December 9, 1992): Recommended approval of Faculty Enrichment Committee’s Recommendation, as shown above.

Faculty Enrichment Grant Abstract: Spring 1993

Name: Dina G. Castillo
Department: Spanish
Title of Proposed Project: Laserdisk Material in the Spanish Language Classroom
Abstract: With the implementation of a new language laboratory with video capability and computer equipment, it becomes necessary to research available interactive instructional software in order to develop materials accessible to students and faculty. The project will be done in three stages. First, in Spring 93, I will learn to use the equipment. Second, also in Spring 93, I will preview and assess interactive instructional software at the elementary and intermediate levels, select programs, and create materials appropriate for these courses. Third, in Fall 93, I will implement and test all materials in the classroom while making it available to students in the language lab. Therefore, I am requesting funds equivalent to three lab hours weekly for Spring 93 and Fall 93. Lastly, I would also need funding for the videodisks I will be previewing and purchasing.

Requested Funding:
Stipend: $2,652.00
Materials and Supplies: $1,500.00
Printing/Duplicating: $300.00
TOTAL: $4,452.00

FACULTY ENRICHMENT COMMITTEE FINDING:

No funds will be recommended for this project at this time because the proposal is not specific enough in terms of schedule and types of activities, equipment and supplies identification and costs, and printing and duplicating detailed expenses. Applicant will be invited to submit a revised proposal for one semester at a time (next application deadline is February 15, 1993) with details adequate for the FEC to make a decision.

RECOMMENDED FUNDING:
Stipend: $0.00
Materials and Supplies: $0.00
Printing/Duplicating: $0.00
TOTAL: $0.00

Faculty Enrichment Grant Abstract: Spring 1993

Name: George Frakes and Chris Mooney
Department: History
Title of Proposed Project: Purchase of American History and Western Civilization Videodiscs and Videodisc Player
Abstract: The History Department is interested in funds to purchase two videodiscs—The American History and Western Civilization Videodiscs. In addition, the department wants to purchase or share with ethnic studies a videodisc player since not all instructors will be able to use the videodisc and computer equipment going into IDC 210. Many instructors in social science departments will be able to use the player and discs. The equipment and discs will also be listed in the department’s resources request.

Requested Funding:
Stipend: $0.00
Materials and Supplies: $2,990.00
Printing/Duplicating: $0.00
TOTAL: $2,990.00

FACULTY ENRICHMENT COMMITTEE FINDING:

Videodisc purchase is recommended. However, the Faculty Enrichment Committee does not consider videodisc players or other audio-visual equipment as "instructional materials," nor will the committee’s limited resources allow for such purchases. Also, no provision is made for maintenance and control of the equipment.

RECOMMENDED FUNDING:
Stipend: $0.00
Materials and Supplies: $1,131.00
Printing/Duplicating: $0.00
TOTAL: $1,131.00

This video disc will be used by over 10 teachers in the department to put together different programs. Student presentations can also use images from the video disc. Funds are also asked for the purchase of a video player. This will also be on the list of resource requests; in the meantime ethnic studies can borrow the history department’s player. Teachers and students will both have opportunities to evaluate the various programs.

Faculty Enrichment Grant Abstract: Spring 1993

Name: Alyce Steidler
Department: Essential Skills
Title of Proposed Project: Using Laser Disk Technology in the Classroom
Abstract: After attending the Fall ’92 Faculty In-Service, I resolved to begin exploring how I and my colleagues might incorporate the power of new technology in the classroom. As a result of my interest, a laser disk player equipped with a bar code reader and remote control unit has been ordered for our department. My intention is to examine the laser disks already available in the Learning Resource Center and from them to create at least one unit that includes laser disk images to coincide with and enhance a chapter of the textbook material used for English 103. The financial support provided if this grant proposal is accepted would enable me to conduct my project during summer session in place of teaching.

Requested Funding: Stipend: $2,100.00
Materials and Supplies: $0.00
Printing/Duplicating: $0.00
TOTAL: $2,100.00

FACULTY ENRICHMENT COMMITTEE FINDING:

This proposal is for the Summer grant period; therefore no funds are recommended for the Spring Semester grant period. Applicant will be asked to review total hours required for this project and will be invited to resubmit before February 15, 1993, deadline.

Faculty Enrichment Grant Abstract: Spring 1993

Name: Claudia Mitchell
Department: Nursing ADN
Title of Proposed Project: Spring Semester Meeting of All ADN Faculty
Abstract: The Board of Registered Nursing of the state of California has indicated that the “total faculty” be involved in planning, revising, evaluating the ADN program and the ADN curriculum. Also, all faculty should be involved in decision making. The ADN program currently uses five hourly instructors for clinical instruction (hospital teaching of nursing students). None of these hourly faculty is involved in any on-campus teaching, faculty meetings, or decision making. The reason they are not involved is because they are paid “hourly,” and all of their hourly time is needed for clinical instruction. The ADN program does not have the budget to reimburse these faculty for on-campus meetings. Funding is requested for an “all faculty” meeting of the ADN faculty during the spring, 1993, semester. This would increase the continuity of the ADN program for nursing students because all of the faculty would be brought up-to-date on current program requirements, instructional methods, evaluation of students. Specifically three hours each for five hourly faculty at lab rate is requested.

Faculty Enrichment Grant Abstract: Spring 1993

Name: Catherine Carroll and Denise Fortier. Faculty Sponsor: Mary Wiemann
Department: Communication
Title of Proposed Project: Students and Learning: What Teachers Need to Know.
Abstract: In order to discover innovative approaches to the improvement of teaching and the enhancement of student involvement in the learning process, this study seeks to give credence to the voices of those who experience the educational process firsthand. Through the use of student and faculty focus groups, we want to uncover individual and collective insights as we direct attention to the qualitative dimensions of effective teaching methods. Ultimately, we plan to develop a video presentation which will help new faculty at SBCC. This video presentation will first be presented in a workshop on faculty in-service day and will be available in the anticipated Teacher Resource Center.

- Materials and Supplies: $100.00
- Printing/Duplicating: $20.00
- TOTAL: $2,500.00

FACULTY ENRICHMENT COMMITTEE FINDING:

No funds are recommended for this project. Applicants, who are hourly faculty members, withdrew request when they were informed that the stipend would count against their TLU loads. They will be invited to resubmit at a later date.

Faculty Enrichment Grant Abstract: Spring 1993

Name: Art Albanese and Kate Sasanoff
Department: English/Computer Writing Lab
Title of Proposed Project: The Earth at 1 km
Abstract: The purpose of the Earth at 1 km project is to present a never before seen 1 kilometer satellite image of our planet to the American public during the spring semester 1993. In cooperation with Earth Imaging, a private company, UCSB, and the Santa Barbara Museum of Natural History, we propose the release of the North American continent portion of the total Earth at 1 km image. This project is consistent with the faculty enrichment emphasis on multi-media and instructional computer support on our campus. It will also give SBCC highly prestigious national and international publicity. Funding is requested for supplies/duplicating and to pay Kate Sasanoff, a classified employee who works ten hours a week for Earth Imaging and part-time in the Computer Writing Lab.

Requested Funding:
Stipend: $600.00
Materials and Supplies: $200.00
Printing/Duplicating: $200.00
TOTAL: $1,000.00

FACULTY ENRICHMENT COMMITTEE FINDING:

Grant request is recommended for approval. A small rate adjustment was made to match an existing position description. Applicant Sasanoff is limited to no more than 19.5 hours per week for a total of 54 hours at $11.40 per hour as a Special Project Coordinator.

RECOMMENDED FUNDING:
Stipend: $615.60

Faculty Enrichment Grant Abstract: Spring 1993

Name: Henry Bagish
Department: Sociology/Anthropology
Title of Proposed Project: An Experiment in Media Transfer
Abstract: I propose to experiment with videotape as an alternative medium for presenting visual images in my LRC-based independent-study course, Cultures Around the World. The project has two parts. Part A will experiment with the transfer of slide images to videotape, and in the process create an additional culture module on areas of China visited this past summer. Part B will create a videotape that pulls together video clips from a variety of sources in order to demonstrate the link between a South-Pacific-island “land-diving” ceremony and modern “bungee-jumping.” This project will require the services of a videographer.

Requested Funding:
Stipend: $2,055.76
Materials and Supplies: $100.00
Printing/Duplicating: $5.00
TOTAL: $2,160.76

FACULTY ENRICHMENT COMMITTEE FINDING:

Grant request is recommended for approval. In case the services of SBCC part-time videographer are not available, the committee recommends the sum of $570.68 (54 hours at $25.94) for off-campus video transfer and editing services.

RECOMMENDED FUNDING:

Faculty Enrichment Grant Abstract: Spring 1993

Name: Mohammad El-Soussi
Department: Electronic/Computer Technology
Title of Proposed Project: Integrating Computer-Aided Electronic Simulations into the Classrooms.
Abstract: The Electronic and Computer Technology Department has recently introduced computer software programs, similar to those used in industry, to help students increase their understanding of the subjects covered in the classrooms. One of the software programs we have acquired is called “Electronic Workbench,” a simulation of electronic circuitry typically found in most electronic textbooks. This software, however, is currently being used on a random basis, with no written guidelines or instructions, and is not coordinated with specific assigned projects. This causes frustration to both the instructor and the students, and limits the potential of the software to contribute to student learning of the course material. I will write procedures and guidelines and develop 16 electronics projects.

Requested Funding: Stipend: $1,469.34
Materials and Supplies: $0.00
Printing/Duplicating: $0.00

Faculty Enrichment Grant Abstract: Spring 1993

Name: Marie Foley
Department: English
Title of Proposed Project: English 100 Portfolio Assessment Pilot Project
Abstract: Portfolio assessment is a new and integral part of English 100 instruction. A portfolio is now used in place of the old exit exam to determine a student’s eligibility for English 110. To implement this important innovation, the English Department conducts two training sessions in preparation for the grading of the students’ portfolios. These training sessions serve the equally important function of curriculum development: assignments are standardized, criteria are refined, and teaching issues are discussed. Funding is requested to pay part-time faculty for two training sessions and one grading session, which amount to eight hours. There are 12 faculty to be paid at the lab rate of $25.00.

Requested Funding:
Stipend: $2,400.00
Materials and Supplies: $0.00
Printing/Duplicating: $0.00
TOTAL: $2,400.00

FACULTY ENRICHMENT COMMITTEE FINDING:

The portion of this proposal that involves grading, approximately 50% according to the applicant, does not qualify for FEC funds. The committee recommends that $1,200.00 be awarded for training of part-time faculty, with the provision that a matching amount of $1,200.00 be paid from Academic Affairs funds. This is a one-time award from the FEC, as this program will require maintenance funding after the spring semester, and application to the resource ranking process will be recommended to the applicant.

Stipend: $1,200.00
Materials and Supplies: $0.00
Printing/Duplicating: $0.00

FACULTY ENRICHMENT COMMITTEE FINDING:

No funds will be recommended for this project at this time because the proposal is not specific enough in terms of the name and the cost of the software. Also, this project requires a full-time faculty sponsor. Applicant will be invited to submit a revised proposal for the fall semester 1993 with details adequate for the FEC to make a decision.
