

CLRC Workshop Series

Fall 2009

Writing Skills Workshops

Open to students from all classes, including English, History, Communications, and Biology.

For any of the workshops, you may bring an assignment on which you are currently working, or use one of our examples.

Assignment Analysis

Explore strategies and resources to start any type of writing assignment on the right track.

September 17

Self-Editing Strategies

Increase revision confidence by learning to check grammar and clarity in your academic writing.

October 1

MLA/APA Citation: Part I

Learn how to find, track, and document appropriate sources for your research paper for any discipline.

October 29

MLA/APA Citation: Part II

Learn how to evaluate sources, format your paper, and build your works cited page.

November 19

Thursdays from 1:00 -1:50 p.m.
in the Cartwright Learning Resources Center,
next to the Library.

No pre-registration necessary. Arrive in time to secure a seat; limited to 36
participants each session.