

GATHERING CITATION INFORMATION

Use this form to collect data on one source you will need to cite in any format, including MLA, APA, Chicago. On this side, collect publication data; on the reverse, rate the source’s credibility, accuracy, reasonableness, and other important characteristics.

FIRST, IDENTIFY ALL THE DATA YOU NEED TO CREATE YOUR IN-TEXT AND WORKS CITED ENTRY FOR THIS SOURCE:
 MLA APA OTHER: _____

Note: Some of the following information might not be required for all citation entries.

Type of source (book, magazine, reference, etc.): _____

Method of access (print, online database, or website): _____

Author(s) (if listed): _____

Editor(s) (if any): _____

Title of article, essay, or web page (if any): _____

Title of book, magazine, or web site, etc.: _____

Title of database or web page (if any): _____

Volume (if any) _____ Issue (if any) _____ Edition (if any) _____ Page # _____

Date of publication: _____ Date you accessed the material: _____

Digital Object Identifier: _____ Source medium: _____

Publisher or host organization (if listed): _____

Place of publication (if listed): _____

NEXT, FIND THE APPROPRIATE CITATION EXAMPLE ONLINE OR IN A HANDBOOK. THEN CREATE A WORKS CITED (OR REFERENCES, FOR APA) ENTRY HERE:

In text parenthetical citation: _____